Fluxnotes Structured Phrases

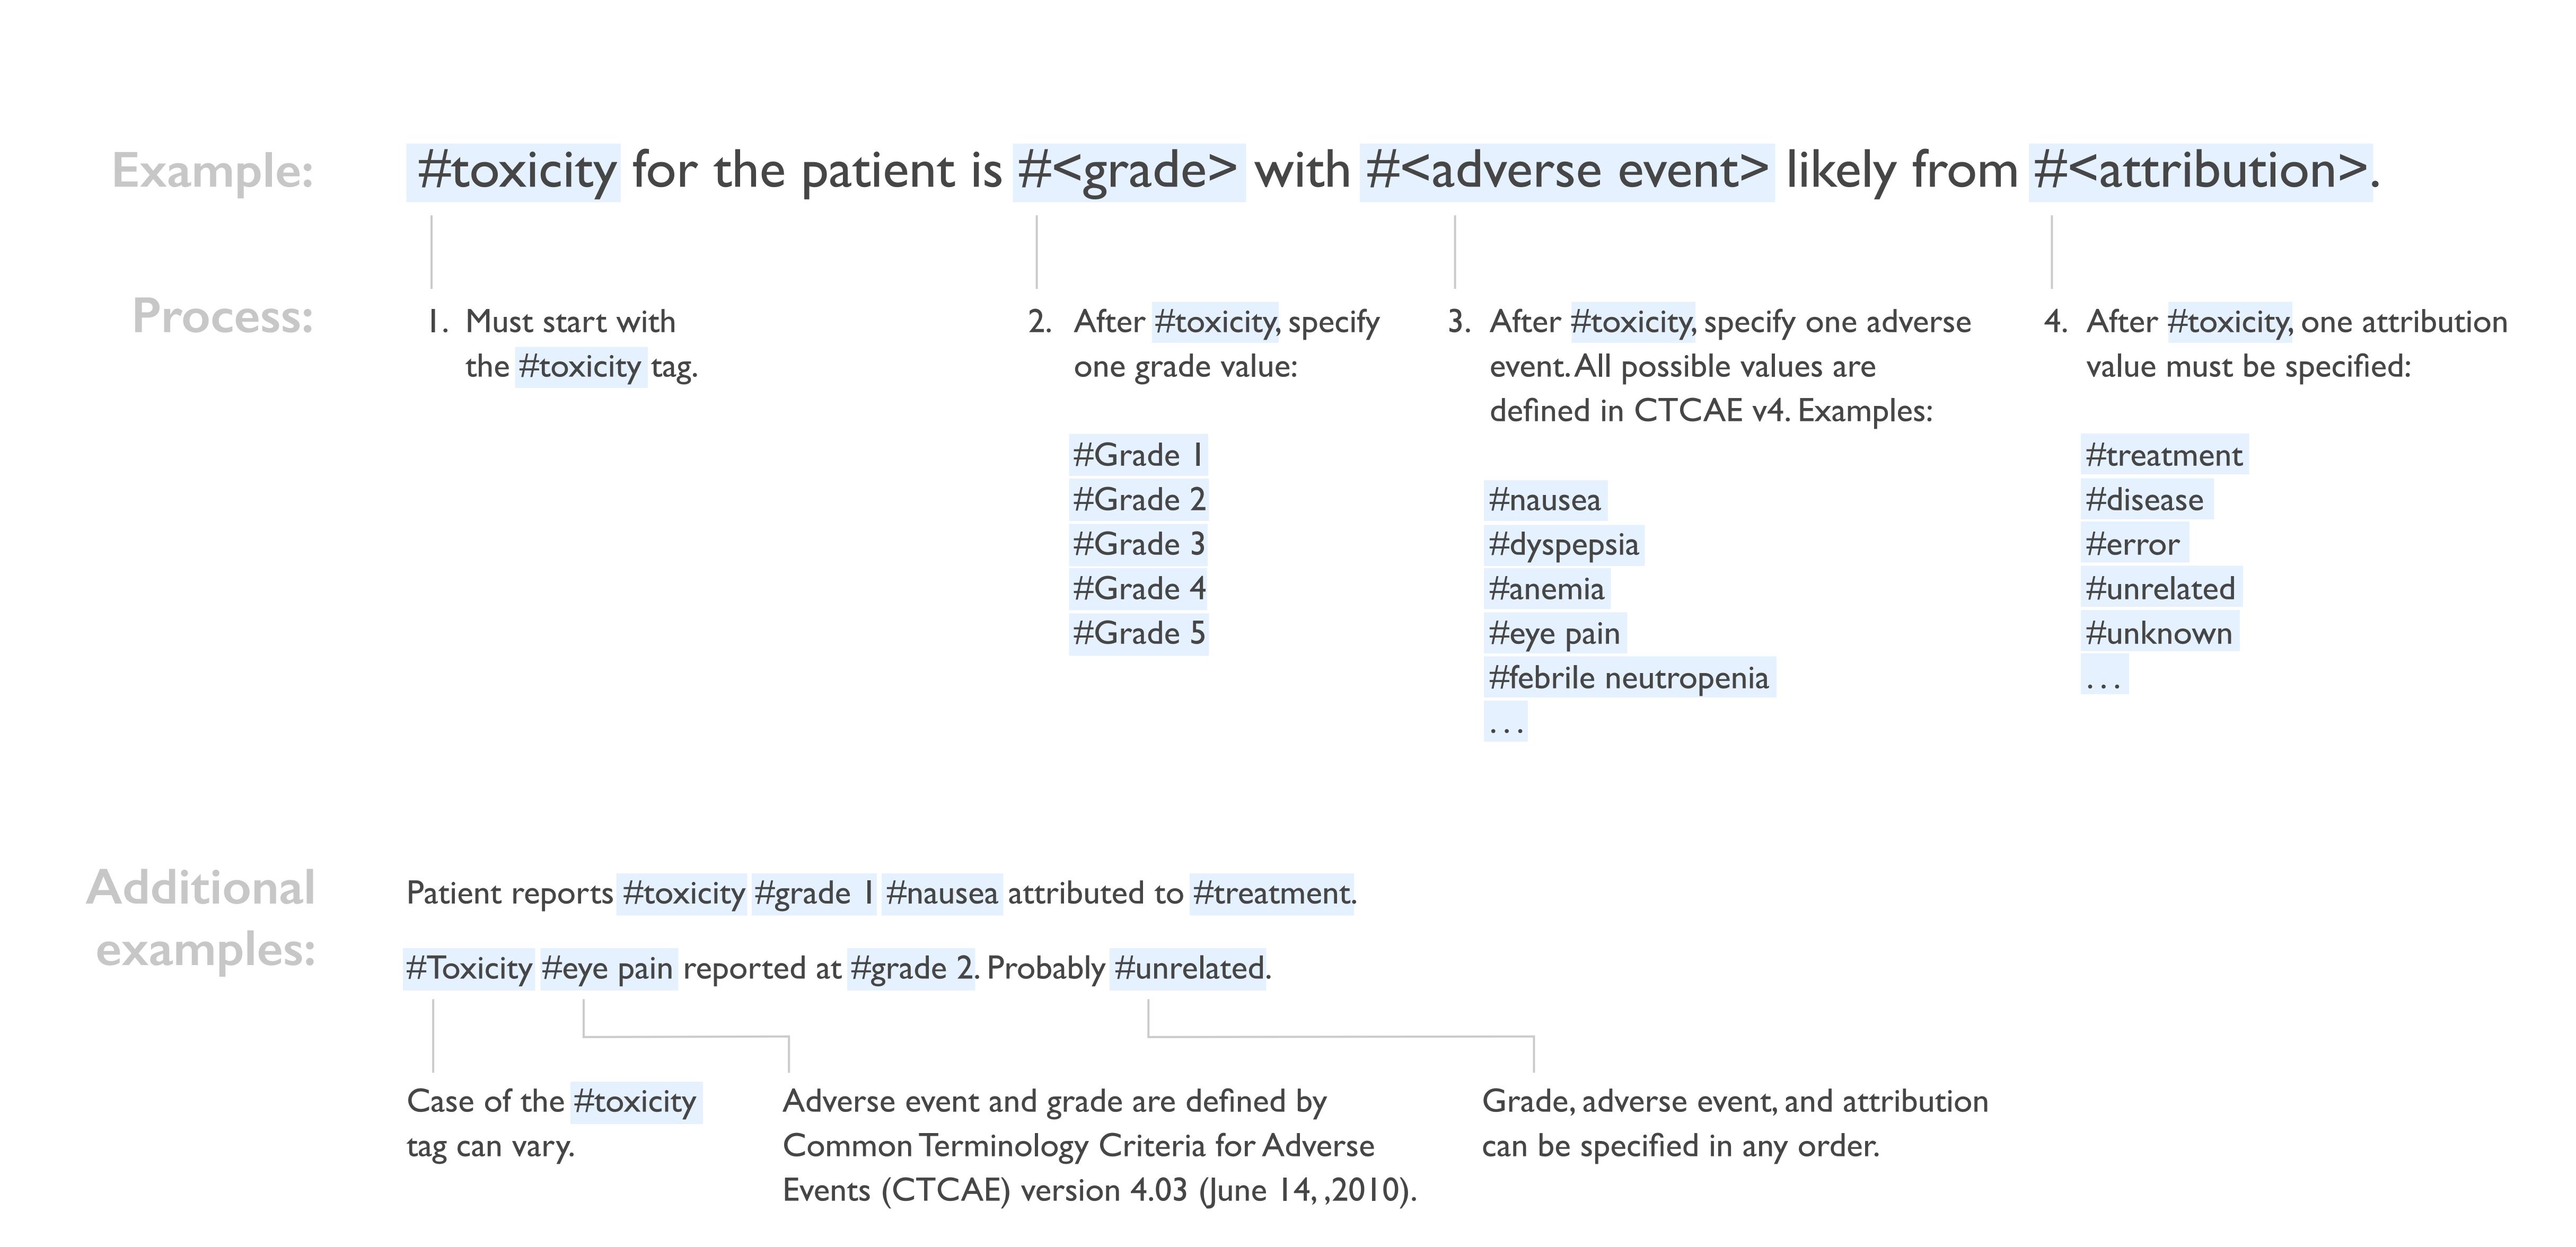

Progression:

Determination of disease progression is based on a number of complex variables which include objective measures like tumor growth, symptomatic criteria, patient reports information, and subjective evaluations.

Toxicity:

Side effects to treatment, important for effective evaluation of disease and treatment, based on the Common Terminology Criteria for Adverse Events (CTCAE).

Staging:

Extent of an individuals cancer.

